

The Ultimate Guide to Social Engineering

Hey guys, first off thanks for buying my eBook, it does really mean a lot to me. In this eBook you will be learning how to social engineer:

- Alienware
- Apple Devices
- Beats (Dr. Dre)
- Hard Drives
- Laptops
- USBs
- Webcams
- Mice
- Phones
- Kindles
- Gears of War 3 Codes

Before we get started, you have NO resale rights and NO support, so without further ado, let's get started!

The Ultimate Guide to Social Engineering, written by Neel.

Alienware

First off, go to this link:

<http://chat6.us.dell.com/netagent/cimlogin.aspx?questid=4DD9CD1F-D0C9-49DB-BB0E-C8F554BDCC60&portid=7ACA8A1E-507F-4E85-ACAB-40A03CDDE954>

Then input an email that you can work with and have access to.

1. Now begin the chat calmly and nicely.

You: Hi, how are you today sir? (Start with a very welcoming gesture)

2. Make a friend, introduce yourself.

You: Nice to hear, I am (your name) from (your state or company)

3. Now introduce the problem.

You: I bought a (your laptop here) from your website but I did not print the receipt, a simple mistake. I tried to log back into my account to try to get the receipt but it says my account was removed for violation. Is there anything you can do? I paid over (your price here) for a computer for our (company) and have yet to receive anything. It's been about 4 weeks.

4. Don't give them time to react.

You: At first I thought it was a misunderstanding but now it's been about 4 weeks.

5. Seek the reply but act fast.

You: I don't have the receipt as I said before but I can show you my PayPal proof of my purchase. I am very upset that your company would try to just take my hard earned money.

6. End with no style, only reasons.

Apple Devices

First thing you will need is an apple serial with a warranty, There are many methods of getting these, I personally just use the loot.co.uk or ebay.co.uk and send sellers a questions something along the lines of:

“Hi, I’m very interested in the iPhone 4 you have advertised on XXSITE however I have been stung in the past with scams and alike, can I have the serial number on the back to check it is legit and not reported stolen?”

It really is that simple, and can be done for most products, just set up a shitty temporary email account, and you’ll have a shit load. There are many other ways of blagging the information you need. However I personally have found this to be the best method.

Now, you have your serials, smashing, what the fuck do you do with them? Get on down at <https://selfsolve.apple.com/GetWarranty.do>, then enter your serial like so:

Service and Repair

You can see your service options and arrange a repair online for selected products and locations.

To proceed, simply let us know your hardware serial number and your location. Apple will find you the help you need.

Hardware serial number:

Finding your serial number is easy. See how.

Country:

Pick your country

Once you have entered your info, you will get taken to this page, to show you what product it’s for:

Service and Repair

iPhone 4

Serial number: [REDACTED] Check another serial number
See your service and support coverage

Country:

The following service options are available for this product in the location you've selected.

Request Online Service

You can set up service now for the fastest solution. Apple offers mail-in repairs for your product and its accessories.

Request Service

Oh delightful it appears I have an iPhone 4, now go ahead and click on the “Request Service” and you’ll get taken to a page to log in, enter in your login information and you’ll be taken to a page to describe your issue. Put something in like “I can hear people but they cannot hear me”, then enter in your address and wait for Apple to send you a box.

After about couple of days, the lovely folk at Apple will send you a very nice protective box to return your iPhone in, how thoughtful the bag is prepaid and insured, Insured I hear you say, brilliant! There are several boxes inside boxes from Apple.

Fuck knows why but anyhow, get the prepaid package plastic envelope, put in something like rocks or sand, something heavy, then seal it up. Make it look like it’s been tampered with, use gloves for safety. Then seal it all up and go to the Post Office, Ask the hideously old woman behind the counter who clearly smokes 40 Richmond Super Kings daily to post it and get your proof of postage. Then, Wait for the magic email/phone call from Apple saying something about your iPhone missing or whatever. Basically all you do after this is wait about a week and go online, Check the status of your repair, hopefully it will say “Repair box sent” this means Apple have not got your iPhone! Sweet, ring up and speak to customer services, they will want a scan of your Proof of Postage, Send them that and wait for a UPS tracking number. They are shit slow to respond however after 3-

4 weeks they tell you the score and refund you the cost of your lovely iPhone. You can follow its "Repair" status online and in your email, If nothing happens don't ring them up straight away! Wait around 2-3 weeks. Last time I did this someone actually did steal my empty iPhone box at Post Office. That made things a lot easier. That's Have fun wasting Apple's resources and time, and getting some of your money back from those thieving cunts in Post Office.

Beats by Dre

Go to iOffer.com and make two accounts, then find a product you are looking for and post an offer with a comment. Something along the lines of:

“I am really looking forward to buying this product!”

Something very positive. Now with the other account, post something like this:

“I am upset that you have denied my last offer even AFTER I PAID IN FULL. Someone or something should be done about this. If I am not refunded or shipped my item in under 1 week, I will contact the site administrators.”

The account with the good offer will make him want to sell. When he sees the bad offer, he will have to choose what to deal with first making him a bit frustrated and anxious. He becomes confused and the result is almost always a refund. If you get the shipping, congratulations.

Hard Drives

Pretty easy method so I'll keep this short.

- Make NewEgg account.
- Scroll to the bottom for support.
- Click on the "live chat" link.
- Fill in some information.
- Tell them a hard-drive was shipped to you but you have no receipt, the seller did not even ask if you wanted one.
- Do a bit of talking around about other items on the website
- Tell them you like most of staff (suck up).
- Go back to your hard drive issue.
- Since you didn't get a receipt, you couldn't have gotten a transaction number, explain this to them.
- Gain sympathy from them to an "unhappy" customer.
- You have your new hard drive.

Laptops

I recommend Dell/Compaq for this method

- Send an email/complaint to the company about a laptop that you purchased but got no receipt or email back from.
- “I would take pictures and all but I could not afford a webcam. This laptop is pretty much all I could buy with money I saved up.”
- “Our family has been in horrible conditions for a few years now, I managed to save some money to buy this and now I am being told that I haven’t paid for it?”
- Please help me ☹️

Wait for their sympathy (DON'T GO OVERBOARD, USE SOMETHING ALON THOSE LINES)

USBs

Another simple method, so I'll keep this brief as well.

1. <http://www.techbargains.com/>
2. Contact support about a non-shipped USB
3. Pick your USB
4. Google it and find all info you can.
5. Tell support that you have waited over 3 weeks for your USB to ship.
6. Show them which one it is.
7. Tell them you don't know why you didn't receive and email either
8. Tell them you became suspicious of the seller and ask if they know who is selling these items.
9. Make them nervous. Don't let them give reasons.
10. Tell them one of your friends said to be careful on the site to and that he was scammed also.
11. Wait for the decision
12. If no, then X out.
13. If yes, then give shipping and all that. Tell him I will wait but if it comes through, you will recommend the site to a lot of people.

Webcams

Contact: http://dealspl.us/WebCams_deals

Click on: <http://dealspl.us/info/contact>

Now the admin are some of the most quality and reputation valuing mother fucking people on the internet. They will supply you with tons of video cams if done correctly.

Send this message:

“I don’t know who on your site tried to scam me but it must be stopped. I have bought over 6 webcams from here and received 0 in the past 4 weeks. I don’t know who in your staff would try to scam me out of my money but it needs to stop. It seems I get the same person every time. I really need a webcam for video chat with my family and important customers. I can’t keep buying from here if I keep getting my money taken. Please try to fix this by refunding me my money or, sending me my webcams that I paid for. Thank you.”

Hopefully you’ll get a reply back asking for your address/information, give them this and enjoy your new webcam!

Mice

These are so easy to social engineer.

Go here: <http://www.gadgetsdealer.com/product47401.html>

File a complaint and you will have your product in a few weeks/days.

Just say they broke on the first day and that they don't light up and the right click doesn't work.

You will be given this product. It honestly is that easy.

Phones

This method is an absolute work of genius to say the least.

First off, look for an online review site for phones, for example, PhonesReviews.co.uk.

Go to Gmail or an email provider and make an email along the lines of PhonesReviews.co.uk@gmail.com. When you're signing up, make sure you use an English name like "Matthew Parker".

Now you've got that, go to Google and type in "Chinese mobile phone <your phone>". Click on one of the results and select the phone you want. Get the link of it and save it somewhere. Now, websites like these should usually have a contact page, find it and get the email (if it's a contact form it still may work). Now comes the social engineering part, we're going to send them an email like this:

Hello <Site>,

I'm Matthew from a famous English phone review website, called PhonesReviews.co.uk.

I have been reviewing mobile phones for about 10 years straight and I'm interested in reviewing one of your phones. To be clear, the H2000 I'll put up a nice review about the phone, just like [\[link\]](#). Of course I'll add a link to the item so people from PhonesReviews will go to your website and maybe buy the phone. Since we have good stats, around 932 views a day, I'm sure I can help you boost your sales with the review. For this review I (of course) need a sample to make a review from it. I hope to hear if you're interested in this opportunity.

Thank you,

Matthew Parker

Reviewer at www.PhonesReviews.co.uk

After you've send the email, wait for a day and they'll probably respond. If they say:

"No sorry, I'm not interested." just reply with something like: "If you want, I can review any phone you like and I'll guarantee that you'll boost your sales!" If they answer something like: "Yeah sure. Can I have your address?" Give them your real address. If they ask you where the review is, just say you need permission from your boss or something, and if you're a real social engineer you answer: "I haven't got the phone, can you send me a new one?"

Harder Social Engineering

Do exactly the same as I've written before. Only do these things:

1. CALL instead of emailing.
2. Get their AFFILIATE msn. This will give you more chance.
3. If you're from like Brazil, search for Brazilian Android Reviews and use Brazilian names.
4. SE till you die. Get a Chinese phone review website clone and ask for lots of phones.
5. Register a Chinese Clone domain and leech posts from other websites and fake the view stats / comments.

Kindles

Contact Amazon support with the reason of your battery has been dying a lot the last two weeks and now refuses to turn on. You haven't had this Kindle for a long time; you only got it a couple of weeks ago

Go through all the troubleshooting they do just say it still won't work and they will replace it.

Here is a serial if they ask for it:

D01E B0A0 1464 1B35

Edit the last few digits and change some stuff.

Note: If they ask for your Amazon account/delivery information/payment information, just say that it was a gift and you don't have any of that stuff.

Gears of War 3 Codes

With this method you have to act natural, easy right? Well you will walk in to any BestBuy/Walmart go to the games department and tell the clerk/cashier: "Hey I purchased Gears of War 3 and I was supposed to receive two DLC codes/characters." If they ask for proof, say sorry my receipt is at home, don't offer to run off to get the receipt, pretend it's at home and you can't get it. This method has never failed for me personally, and I have never been asked for a receipt.

Characters/DLC you can receive for this first method:

Mechanic Baird
Commando Dom
Savage Grenadier
Elite Savage Kantus

Method two is a bit easier it just requires more patience, what you will need for this is a phone. What you need to do is call up Microsoft and tell them you purchased Gears of War 3. They will ask for your information. YOU HAVE TO PROVIDE THEM WITH YOUR XBOX ACCOUNT INFORMATION. Tell them the codes you want/didn't receive and they should help you, they should email you all the codes you ask for. Characters/DLC you can receive from this method:

Adam Fenix
Flaming Lancer
Flaming Sawed Off
Flaming Gnasher
Flaming Hammerburst
Thrashball Cole
Golden Retro Lancer
Infected Omen Skin Pack

That's the end of the eBook! I hope you enjoyed this and I hope it helps you get the items you want for 100% off. Thanks again for buying this, as a gift, here's a list of 100 underground marketing/hacking websites:
